

I listen to a national radio station called KLOVE on a translator station. It provides me with news and a family friendly environment that I depend on for my daily life. I would be greatly effected by replacing it with a Low Power FM station since it is one of the two stations I listen to. KLOVE provides free advertising to non-profit agencies and is listener supported. It would be difficult to replace the services KLOVE provides.

Bill Dewey